

Log Transport Safety Council

Strategy 2022-2025

Vision –

What we want the future of the sector to look like

That New Zealand Log Transport is world-leading in its risk management and its productivity through driver wellbeing initiatives, design, and innovation.

Mission –

How we are contributing to the vision

Log Transport Safety Council enables “best practice” for log transport through accessible guidelines and support, that ensures all aspects of the sector are “fit for purpose” (drivers, equipment, operators, and infrastructure)

Purpose –

Why LTSC exists

1. To provide world-class leadership for the Log Transport Industry
2. To develop Best Practice Industry Guidelines and deliver a code of practice that promotes well-being solutions in the workplace
3. To provide a reliable source of accurate industry information through intel gathering, accurate testing, research, and development
4. To develop clear and effective engagement with the wider logging community and forestry industry

Objectives –

What are we working towards

- Influencing decision-makers - Using our voice to inform and influence better outcomes for the sector
- Best practice adoption – Providing clarity on rules/regulations and strengthening the uptake of guidelines to manage risk, grow efficiency, and increase sector credibility
- Value recognition - An increased understanding within the forestry industry of the critical role log transport plays in the supply chain.
- Collective impact – Collaborating with others who contribute to log transport safety and facilitating alignment and efficiency across partner organisations.
- Reducing harm - Establishing a culture of continuous improvement among log transport operators.
- Driver Wellbeing – Prioritising and sustaining driver wellbeing through workforce upskilling, sector engagement, and supporting innovation.

Principles –

How do we work

- We proactively seek to understand the needs of our members and the sector
- We are credible, well informed, and driven to achieve meaningful sector improvements
- We are “solutions focus” and work with key partners to ensure our work is impactful.
